Lockwood, in combeen plying during the past season beagain enter the Missouri river trade, for which she was originally built. At New was pronounced in good condition by the ers that our hero of the pole is Board of Inspectors when she proceeded upward. She had only been out a short time when it was discovered that one of her boilers was leaking. Captain Howard immediately ordered the amount of steam to be reduced, and asked the engineer if they had not better stop and repair. That officer informed the Captain that there was no positive necessity for so doing, when the steamer continued upward, under the master's instruction, at a very slow speed. Last night, however, when she was probably eighteen miles from the city, she suddenly blew up, and afterward caught fire. The flames burst in majesty, sending their larid light high in the heavens, making bright the whole horizon, which from this distance could be plainly seen and many readily divined how they were occasioned. The steamer M. S. Mepham, on her way to New Orleans, soon passed the ill-fated steamer, and rendered all the assistance in the power of her officers. The wounded and scaldad were taken by them. We are happy in being able her, and proceeded down the river, receiving every care that could be given to state that none of the lady passengers were lost. The boat was burnt to the water's edge and will, with the cargo, which was small, prove a total loss. She as valued at about sixty thousand dollars, and was not insured. From parties who arrived this morning from the wreck we learn no further particulars of the lost than what reached here last evening. Among the killed were the bar keeper, a cabin boy, the steward, the sec nson, 12; Saffarans, 3. ond engineer and his striker, a texas ten der, the watchman, the rest of the number being passengers, none of the names of which we could learn. About ten of the crew-the first clerk, the first en gineer and his striker-were badly scalded. Among the scalded are G. B'

A NEGRO MORTALLY WOUNDED .- On Saturday we published the following item of news, under the above caption :

"A negro boy named McCellom, as he "A negro boy named McCellom, as he was turning the corner of Gayoso and DeSoto streets, on his way home last evening, came upon two policemen, and in passing tread heavily on the foot of one of them. Whether accidentally or not, it produced a quarrel, which ended in the policeman shooting McCollom, wounding him mortally."

In connection with the above, we this morning received the following communication from one of our Front street merchants: EDITOR PUBLIC LEDGER:—If "a white man" was substituted for "a negro," in an item like the above, you would have had a half column article, headed "Another terrible negro outrage"—wouldn't you? The difficulty with you, like most of our city press, is simply this: You cannot regard the negro as a human being, entitled to the common rights of humanity. Just stop and think of this a moment. Very respectfully, S. M. Wolcort.

In the above card Mr. Wolcott does us gross injustice, and draws on the dark side of his imagination for fancies which the facts of the case do not warrant him in making. We but stated a simple item of news as it reached us, and our files will hear us out that we have never written or published anything against a negro because he was a negro. The statement that we do not "regard the negro as learn that Major Barr, late one of the being entitled to the common rights of editors of the Appeal, has withdrawn humanity," is simply a falsehood that from that paper. The Major is a wholerequires no refutation in a community souled, smiable gentleman, who, during where we are known. QUITE A DARING AUX.-We had a call this morning from W. H. Terry, "the wild Mississippi counterfeit bill," who, to use his own expression, "don't give a continental d-n for anybody, save his ANOTHER STEAMBOAT DISASTER - friends, and don't expose anybody who don't expose him." He desires us to say those terrible steamboat disasters, which that in his daring feat of walking out on of late have so frequently taken place on the telegraph flag-pole, he was not under the Western waters, occurred last night the influence of whiskey. se we stated, at about eight o'clock, within twenty but desired to prove that the great rope miles of our city, suddenly sending into man, Mr. Denier, was not such a woneternity some twenty or more people, and der, but that he could not find his match in a returned "Confedret." Thus far they have been very successful, and made themselves immensely popular street. with all who have attended the theatre. They have appeared in a great number characters, and always received the plaudits of discriminating audiences. In the delineation of Irish characters, Mr. Florence always appears as natural and easy as a genuine Irishman. Mrs. Florence is one of the most versatile actresses of the day. She has appeared in Irish, German, Spanish and Yankee characters, each of which she sustained in the most artistic style. She sings well, and dances beautifully. To-night a great bill is to be presented-"Kathleen Mavourneen," with Mr. Florence as Terrence O'More, and Mrs. Florence as Kathleen O'Connor, and Messrs. Carden, Hicks and McWade are also to appear. "Kathleen Mayourneen" is an excellent drama, and in the hands of these accomplished artists will be very street. DISGRACEFUL .- There are quite a number of young men who congregate at street corners, and other public places, having nothing to employ their time, on account of their second nature-idleness. They smoke cigars, drink whiskey. and spit tobacco juice on the sidewalk; but their brazen effrontery does not stop here -they will stare at every young lady who chances to pass by, criticising her looks dress and walk in a manner not only disgusting, but truly insulting. They are a pack of indolent rascals, that should be cleared from their holes and put to work. The chain gang or the penitentiary is not a jot too good for them. Persons who forget that they have mothers and sisters should be taught to respect women by the strong arm of the law, and it is to be hoped our police will commence dispersing this set of ribalds from the street corners at once. It is a shame that such should be the condition of things in a city like Memphis, and the sooner the police stop it the more will it redound to ther credit.
